Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909)

Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909)

Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909)

Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."

Frederic Remington

(REM-ing-tun) - American (1861 - 1909) Remington's realistic paintings of the American West chronicled the changing lifestyles and terrain as more people entered the area. His paintings sought to historically capture "the Old West."